RE: Ms. Chrystie Newton Performance

Dear Ms. Smith:

As you know, Pacific Gateway has taken on a new business venture to open the Global Trade Park in Greenville promoting international business in Upstate, South Carolina. As Vice President, I embraced the challenge of choosing a communications partner. In starting the process, much of our business plan was still being developed; thus, the design of our communications needs was a work in progress.

In my initial meeting with Ms. Chrystie Newton, we toured the new facility and discussed many of our ideas. She seemed to understand that we needed a flexible and expandable solution. Chrystie acted as a consultant and guided us in this process, including planning, modifications and implementation. We feel very fortunate to find someone who was so dedicated to finding a solution that fit our specific needs.

Chrystie was truly willing to go the extra mile by being supportive and working aggressively to find the best options. In the end, she provided a comprehensive communications solution including cabling, phone system and voice mail. She even provided competitive quotes from all of the service providers: Nuvox, Deltacom and Bell South and counseled us on their differences. We also discussed other possibilities including wireless data infrastructure and video conferencing which she diligently investigated and provided proposals. Chrystie was responsive, attentive and always had a cheerful and willing attitude.

We evaluated many systems including Avaya, Cisco, and Nortel. Again, Chrystie guided us through the process by providing a comparative analysis on the various systems. This enabled us to make a sound business decision. The process was long and included a few unexpected turns along the way. In the end, we selected Southeaster Telecom as our communications partner.

I am confident in our choice of Southeastern Telecom and I will recommend your services to other businesses. I look forward to many productive years with our new partnership with Southeastern Telecom and Ms. Newton.

Sincerely,

Rick Cauthen, PE
